Imagine a day when . . .

1. You visit the ice cream store and get a great big scoop of your favourite kind of ice cream.
2. As you walk out of the store, your ice cream scoop falls to the ground.
3. A nice lady cleans it up and offers to buy you a new ice cream.
4. You get your new ice cream and it is delicious!
5. You ate too much ice cream and now you are feeling ill.
6. Your mum takes you to your favourite park after school.
7. When you get to the park, you see a fence around it with an 'under construction' sign on it.
8. Your mum suggests you find another park.
9. You drive to a new neighbourhood and find an even better park with three different slides.
10. You see some of your friends from school at the new park.
11. You see a child you do not recognise playing by herself.
12. You go and ask the child to play with you. She agrees.
13. You join all of the other kids and play together.
14. You accidentally knock your friend down when you both try to catch the same ball.
15. It starts to rain.
